RE: HB 0994 – Labor and Employment - Criminal Record Screening Practices (Ban the Box) – Oppose

Dear Delegate Davis:

This bill prohibits asking about, or conducting criminal background screens on applicants before an offer of employment is made.

Asking about an applicant's criminal background history is a valid question that has direct bearing on whether an otherwise qualified person can or should be offered a job. Is it better for an applicant to know up front that his criminal history will bar him from certain jobs, or should he expend the time and energy in the application process only to find out later that he cannot be hired? Should businesses be forced to expend that same time, energy and cost upfront before finding out they cannot hire that candidate and must then rescind an offer?

Employers will be left to suffer the consequences of not being able to properly evaluate an applicant's background before making an offer.

The Carroll County Chamber of Commerce, a business advocacy organization of over 600 members, opposes this bill and asks that you give it an unfavorable report.

Sincerely,
